A Gastronomic Journey To The Balinese Traditional Cuisine

Enjoy Megibung, a festive and sumptuous dining experience originally coming from East Bali and dating back many centuries. Megibung is a community ritual gathering where village people sit cross-legged on the floor around a large plate containing mountains of rice, meat, and vegetables. This unique tradition was introduced by an ancient king of Karangasem who rewarded his victorious soldiers by sharing pleasant meals aimed at breaking down social barriers and building a sense of togetherness among people born into different castes.
